

Alice Leung Vuibert, Bsc, Integral Coach®

Singapore

Fulfilment is a deeply felt experience that what we are doing, how we are living and who we are becoming is meaningful and worthwhile.

// Leadership Profile

Alice supports senior executives to increase their capacity for long term excellence and performance. She received her coach training from New Ventures West, one of the oldest and most recognized ICF accredited Professional Coaching Courses which attend to the individuality of the person as well as the social context in which he/she is always embedded.

Believing that everyone is naturally creative, resourceful and whole, Alice uses the developmental coaching framework to help her clients build up their competence to better face their life circumstances, in and out of their workplace. Through various custom-designed practices and coaching conversations that aim to challenge their world views, her clients will have developed an increased capacity for long term excellence and an awareness that will support their ability to self-correct and self-generate in their everyday life.

Alice's coaching style is compassionate yet challenging, safe yet daring and always supportive as she believes that true development happens in the context of the coaching relationship itself and the work the client is willing to put in between the sessions.

Alice is passionate about walking the talk with her clients and helping them develop in all aspects of their life.

Prior to coaching:

As a 1st generation Chinese born in France, Alice has always had a profound case of wanderlust both literally and figuratively - traveling and reflecting on what truly matters were a way for her to find out where "Home" is.

Career wise, she climbed the corporate ladder for 15 years: she started in the corporate world with Arthur Andersen, then covered 3 continents as part of the audit team for an international chemical group. Bitten again by the travel bug and looking for growth generating challenges, she moved to China to work for a Chinese conglomerate that led the shipbuilding frenzy which changed the world landscape of this industry - from there, she naturally moved on to a role as shipbroker in Singapore for R.S Platou, the global leading firm in the offshore industry where she pursued and closed USD 600 mill worth of deals.

Meanwhile, the pursuit of meaning and fulfilment was becoming more urgent as Alice recognizes that these were painfully lacking in her life. She was fortunate to have crossed paths with several coaches and spiritual teachers who supported her development and vision and today, she is passionate about walking the talk with her clients and help them develop in all aspects of their life.

In her free time, Alice is a dedicated meditator and an avid ashtanga yoga practitioner. She also loves finding the extraordinary in the ordinary with the help of her two young daughters

Area of Expertise

Developmental coaching

Enneagram coaching

Leadership and Transition

Purpose & fulfilment

Recent Coaching Assignments Include

- / General Manager, Sales & Marketing in a leading commodities company
- / Associate Marketing Director in a global pharmaceuticals company
- / Head of APAC marketing in a leisure, travel & tourism company
- / Head of Digital Wealth and Private banking in a leading international bank
- / ScrumMaster and senior developer in a development studio

- / Investment Manager in a Singapore private equity firm
- / Head of APAC Connected Services in an aerospace company

Qualifications and Affiliations

- / Bsc, Finance & Law, ESCP Europe Business School
- / New Ventures West - Professional Coach Training Course
- / CTI Co-active Fundamentals
- / Leadership Embodiment - Level 1
- / The Art of Typing - The Enneagram in Business
- / The embodied Enneagram
- / Member of the International Coaching Federation (ICF)